

PERSEVERANCE

What have you learnt from this term's collective worship about perseverance?

How can you live out the value of perseverance?

How have you shown perseverance?

Picture News.

The Nepalese government has announced that, from September, climbers aiming for the world's highest mountain will have to pay just over £12,000 ($15,000) during the main climbing season. This is over $4,000 more than the previous permit fee for climbing Mount Everest. There have been concerns that there are too many people climbing the mountain, leaving rubbish and not respecting nature. It is hoped the extra money will go towards protecting the area from tourists.

Should we be allowed to travel anywhere we like?

Protected Characteristics

Many places we visit hold religious or cultural significance, including Mount Everest. Tourists have a responsibility to understand this, and to show respect for these places, and the people that use them.

Mutual Respect & Tolerance

When we travel, we visit places with different cultures, traditions, and ways of life. By respecting and appreciating differences, we can learn from each other and help communities feel valued.

Resilience

Resilience is the art of navigating life's storms with grace and courage.

Why do you think resilience is one of our school values?

What is resilience? Is it important to have resilience?
